Senate OK's Military Pay Hike Measure

Little Opposition Seen In House on $207 Million Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $207 million yearly pay raise for more than 2.6 million military personnel was headed today for speedy enactment, perhaps in time to get into August paychecks.

The election-year bonanza whizzed through the Senate Monday by voice vote a little more than one week after it was formally approved without public hearings by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

If it gets through Congress before the end of this month, raises would become effective Aug. 1.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee called for speedy action. He steered the bill to a subcommittee headed by Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., who said House hearings would be brief.

Asked if he could get the measure to the President before the end of the month, Rivers said "we could very well do that."

The bill's effective date is the first day of the calendar month following enactment.

Little opposition was expected in the House, which last month voted $448 million in pay raises for most civilian government employees. The Senate has passed this bill with amendments and it now is awaiting compromise.

The military payroll would provide a 2.5 per cent increase in basic pay for all officers and enlisted men with more than two years of service.

Even larger increases—8.5 per cent of basic pay—would go to young commissioned and warrant officers with less than two years of service. In this category are about 44,601 officers, mainly lieutenants and captains. The basic pay of this

Criticizes Judge Who Released Dr. Sam

Cuyahoga Prosecutor Seeks Role In Sheppard Hearing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cuyahoga County prosecutor John T. Corrigan, continuing to criticize a federal judge for releasing Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard from prison, says his office will seek to participate in an appellate court hearing on the Sheppard case tomorrow in Akron.

The three-judge U. S. Sixth District Court of Appeals will hear a motion to revoke the order freeing the convicted wife slayer.

Sheppard, 40, was freed last Thursday after U. S. District Court Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton ruled that the former osteopath did not receive a fair trial in 1954 when he was convicted of the bludgeoning slaying of his wife, Marilyn. Sheppard is free on $10,000 bond.

The motion to send Dr. Sam back to the Ohio Penitentiary was filed by the Ohio attorney general, but Corrigan said he will claim "we are the real party involved in this action. After all, it is a question whether a judgment of a Cuyahoga County court stands."

Referring to Judge Weinman's decision criticizing news coverage of the case Corrigan declared:

"If Judge Weinman's reasoning is allowed, then you open the door and throw away all the rules of legal procedure. If this conviction is invalid because of the publicity, then the Hoffa conviction is invalid. And the Billie Sol Estes conviction. And, for that matter, Murder, Inc."

He said common pleas court here followed court rules very closely in the Sheppard case and added: "Sheppard's lawyers found all avenues of appeal, and all were denied."

If the appeals court upholds Judge Weinman's order setting bond, Corrigan said, there will be a further appeal. "Even if the man (Sheppard) is ordered back to jail," he said, "we still will appeal the original order. You must remember that this hearing covers only Sheppard's right to bail."

The court has ordered Sheppard to be in court for the hearing, which will be held in the Summit County courthouse. The three appeals court judges are Paul C. Weick of Akron, president; Lester Cecil of Dayton and Clifford O'Sullivan of Port Huron, Mich.

OAS Opens Four-Day Session

Venezuela Seeks Cuba Quarantine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Venezuela prepared to push today for a showdown vote on her demand for a total diplomatic and trade quarantine of Castro's Cuba by the Organization of American States.

The demand was a prime issue as foreign ministers of the 20 American republics opened a four-day conference.

Mexico, Chile, Uruguay and Bolivia still maintain diplomatic ties with the Communist-controlled Caribbean island nation. In addition to the trade embargo—which would except food and medical supplies—Venezuelan officials said they will demand complete severance of all air and sea communications with Cuba.

Mexico is the only hemisphere nation which still has a scheduled Cuban airline service with Havana.

Brazil is reported to be seeking a compromise solution that would satisfy representatives of all the 20 nations.

The conference was called at Venezuela's request to consider punitive action against Cuba for Castro's efforts to overthrow the Venezuelan government.

The charges of aggression were based on the finding of a three-ton cache of arms which Venezuela said was secretly landed on its coast last fall by

Court To Rule On Rights Bill

Decision Expected On Case Wednesday

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Rulings on the constitutionality of the controversial Civil Rights Act of 1964 will be made by a three-judge federal court.

Presiding Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said Monday that the earliest time rulings can be given in the two landmark cases is Wednesday. A delay beyond that day would result in indefinite delay because the judges would be tied up.

In one case, an Atlanta restaurant owner contends that the public accommodations section of the 19-day-old law is illegal and that it does not cover his establishment anyway. The court completed hearing this case Monday.

A second case—hearing of which ended Friday—concerns an Atlanta motel owner who wants to enjoin the government from enforcing the civil rights law. The government has filed a countersuit to force the owner to comply.

Tuttle and District Judges Frank A. Hooper and Lewis R. Morgan are sharing the bench for the tests of the law. Their decisions can be appealed directly to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The suit against Lester Maddox, the segregationist restaurateur, was brought by three Negroes who were turned away from his establishment July 3—the day after President Johnson signed the civil rights

First Ice Cream Cone Made 60 Years Ago

WASHINGTON (AP)—This summer marks the 60th anniversary of the first ice cream cone, and sale of the summertime treat is about to be made legal here.

The Senate Monday passed by voice vote and sent to the White House a bill to end a District of Columbia legal ban on the sale of solid milk products in packages smaller than one-half pint. The provision, part of District law since 1921, would include ice cream cones, but the law has not been enforced.

W. M. Hamwi, a Syrian confectionaire, invented the ice cream cone during a dish shortage at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904.

Beaver Board Okays Budget

Votes To Place Levies on Ballot

The Beaver Local District Board of Education Monday night approved a 1965 budget, some $60,000 above its anticipated revenue, and took steps to place two money-raising levies on the November ballot.

The group also employed five new teachers, accepted the resignations of six others and hiked the salary of one.

Resolutions were passed on the renewal of a 1.6-mill levy and a new 5.4-mill levy. They will be forwarded to the county prosecutor before the measures are certified to the County Board of Elections by Aug. 5. President Paul Dailey said the renewal was originally a 2-mill levy which was reduced to 1.6 following the property reappraisal. The 4-10 mill of the new levy represents this loss.

Alben W. Featsent, industrial arts teacher, was increased to $4100 yearly due to increased experience.

New teachers employed were Margaret Frazer of Wellsville, Harold Hardy of East Liverpool, Edwina Hinds of Chester, W. Va., Charles Tomer of Youngstown and Mildred E. Wise of RD 5, Lisbon. Resignations were accepted from Bruce and Lynda Costanzo, who are going to Youngstown, Judith Ann Dornick, Ruby Hopwood, Lucille Passage and Willie Strader.

Dailey said home economics and art teachers are still needed before school starts, but added "We are in pretty good

Sneak Thief Gets $14,000 From Car

A sneak thief obtained $14,000 in funds of the Central Federal Savings and Loan Association from the parked car of an employee of the Wellsville firm about 10 a.m. today in downtown East Liverpool.

Blaine Beadnell, an appraiser for Central Federal, told police the money was removed from his four-door compact car while it was parked on Jackson St. just off W. 6th St.

Beadnell related that he had withdrawn the funds a few minutes earlier from the First National Auto Bank and was en route to his Wellsville office.

He stopped at the office of an attorney on company business, he related.

COMING THROUGH—A car that crashed through a brick wall and made a shambles of the Mullins Manufacturing Co.'s conference room July 11 was extricated this morning. A tow truck is shown above pulling the battered vehicle through the aperture it created in the building on Railroad St. The auto was driven by Mrs. Esther L. Patterson, 50, of 840 W. Pershing St. who was injured in the accident.

Scores Arrested, Rioting Subsides

New Racial Disturbance In Harlem Leaves 24 Injured

NEW YORK (AP)—Turbulent Harlem simmered down today from two nights of racial rioting and a third of continued disturbances.

Police pistol fire still shattered the air Monday night. Hundreds of steel-helmeted police patrolled the area. Major streets were again closed to traffic.

Chanting Negro demonstrators marched through the streets. Roving gangs harassed police. Looters broke store windows. A melee between police and bar patrons wrecked a tavern.

Two dozen persons, including three policemen were injured. There were a score or more arrests.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's office reported after he was given a report on the situation by telephone that he was returning today from a European vacation. Police officials said Harlem was markedly quieter Monday night. There were no widespread disturbances.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said his office had been in touch by telephone with President Johnson's aides. He said "nothing conclusive" came of the talks.

CORE set up a makeshift first aid station at its office and kept track of outbreaks of violence by walkie-talkie radio.

Acting Mayor Paul Screevane said a grand jury would consider today the case of the white detective lieutenant who fatally shot a 15-year-old Negro boy. Demonstrations after the slaying touched off the first of the riots, in which one man was killed and more than 100 injured.

The detective said he shot the boy in self-defense.

Screevane said that more Negro policemen would be sent into Harlem. The police department says it has no racial breakdown of its members and assigns men without regard to race.

Police fired warning shots in the air Monday night to disperse several crowds when they appeared to get unruly.

The largest demonstration was a relatively peaceful march by about 1,000 persons across several blocks along 125th Street. At Second Avenue police

Doesn't Want 'Tension' To Be Campaign Issue

Goldwater Jeered By American Nazis In Chicago Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater is considering a call to President Johnson—the man he hopes to oust from the White House—for a campaign pact aimed at keeping civil rights tensions "a completely quiet question."

The Republican presidential nominee said he doesn't want the campaign ahead to inflame "this tension that exists," and added one way of easing it would be stricter enforcement of laws guaranteeing the right to vote.

At the White House, press secretary George Reedy said Johnson "would not do anything to incite or inflame tensions" during the presidential campaign. He said Johnson would give serious consideration to a meeting with Goldwater if the Republican nominee formally proposes one.

Goldwater said he would "ponder" making the formal call.

The Arizona senator talked about civil rights at a surprise news conference in Chicago Monday as he headed for a Washington homecoming soured by the jeers of self-styled American Nazis.

Their chants of "We Want Rockwell" — George Lincoln Rockwell, leader of the American Nazi party — interrupted Goldwater's appearance on the rostrum at an outdoor rally at Washington National Airport. One of the group said they were protesting what he called Goldwater's "liberal record."

The senator's parting shot: "They can have Rockwell or anybody else they want. I'll take my chances with the majority of Americans who are Americans."

At a news conference in a Chicago airport lounge, Goldwater said he wants to keep the explo-

Perry Twp. Zone Change Is Approved

Perry Township Trustees Monday night approved a zoning change giving the green light to the projected erection of a new Salem Valve Co. plant on a six-acre tract of land on Newgard St., just south of the Trolley Aids site.

The decision was unanimous by trustees Joe Kornbau, chairman, Dale Paxson, vice-chairman, and Glenn Whinnery.

The tract with 320 feet of frontage is owned by Fred H. Drotteff. The Salem Valve Co. has an option on it.

Howard Jesko, executive vice-president of Salem Valve Co., said today that the company hopes to occupy the new building by the "first of the year."

In other action the trustees also approved zoning changes for three other properties at the intersection of Depot and Pidgeon Rds. and accepted the Cox addition, an extension of N. Union Ave. from E. 12th St. to Parkside Dr.

The trustees, in approving the contested zoning of the Drotteff property upon the recommendation of the Perry Township Zoning Commission, said they saw no objection to the action because the area is already an industrial region and that property owners should not suffer by the erection of the new building that Salem Valve officials have promised to build.

A trustee spokesman said the plant, which will employ some

Scout Camp Menu Varied

Alligator Tail Steak Is Listed

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—Know how to cook eggs 13 different ways? Ever eat alligator tail steak?

How about a chunk of a 300-pound Iowa hog roasted over an open spit? Or perhaps a taste of "presidential chili" from recipe direct from the White House?

These are items on the camp-out menu at historic Valley Forge where 52,000 Boy Scouts are spending a week at the sixth National Jamboree. The encampment ends Thursday night.

Almost every one of the 1,250 jamboree troops has a budding chef silled at cooking up a gastronomic triumph that would tease the palate of any food buff.

Scouts with unusual culinary dishes—and some even ordinary but good—are showing off their talents in the Skill-o-Rama demonstrations.

Maryland boys make crab cakes. The alligator fried in deep fat is done by lads from the Louisiana bayou country. Ft. Dodge, Iowa, scouts are roasting that pig over charcoal today. There's Southern fried catfish offered by Tennessee troops.

From Rhode Island comes Johnny cakes: corn meal scalded by boiling water and then grilled after stirred into a batter. California scouts cut up turkey they had shipped in and then roasted them barbecue-style over a wheel operated by power.

The egg-cooking exhibition is presented by the Prince Georges Council of Maryland, just outside Washington. They offer these variations: boiled, poached, fried, scrambled, Spanish omelette, Spanish eggs, crispy crum, Egyptian, bread omelette, egg-in-onion, egg-in-bacon, egg-in-orange peel.

The 15th style, reports Dal Volkring, 15, of the Maryland troop, is a secret method that just can't be described.

Over-all the boys say the jamboree food is great—especially when the cooks in each eight-man patrol don't burn it.

THE MAN FROM THE WEST (2)

Baron Goldwater, successful Phoenix businessman and noted as one of the best dressers in town, was never close to his children—Barry, Robert and Carolyn—yet at the same time gave them every material thing they needed. Most parental interest came from their mother, "Mun" (who is now 88).

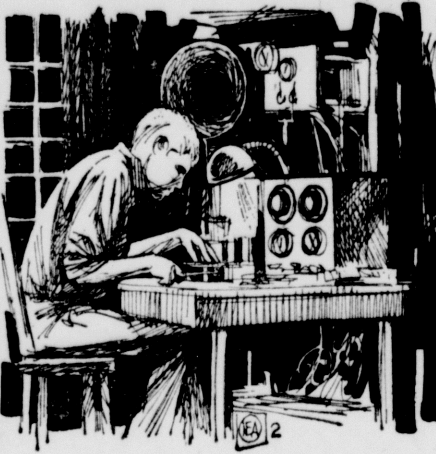

Josephine (Williams) Goldwater was an unconventional woman. An Episcopalian who converted her husband to her religion, she was once amateur champion woman golfer in Arizona—playing in knickers, of all things. She was the first woman in Phoenix to smoke in public. "Mun" taught the children to shoot and love the outdoors as she did. Camping expeditions she took them on became an unforgettable part of their childhood.

Barry Goldwater had an early introduction to politics by way of handlebar-mustachioed Uncle Morris, manager of the Goldwater store in Prescott, mayor of that city for 22 years and one of the founders of Arizona's Democratic Party. Uncle Morris spurred Barry's lifelong interest in Arizona history.

By Don Oakley and John Lane

As for school, Barry was an active athlete, president of his freshman class at Phoenix Union High School but a poor scholar. He preferred working on his hobby of radio to studying (he had the first radio in town and is a ham operator today). Mother and father Goldwater decided that a little more discipline might not be a bad idea—so off went Barry to Staunton Military Academy in Virginia.

Eager Bob Horton

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Life is a battle," said Robert Horton, "and if you don't fight it a little bit every day, you fall behind."

"And that means the next day you have to multiply your effort."

Horton, starring in a Broadway musical, is one of the most serious young actors in show business.

The big, raw-boned, red-haired performer is a planner, a dreamer and a gambler.

He also likes to have a lot of strings to his bow. Right now he is readying a night club act, expects to follow it with another musical next year. Then, if things go according to plan, he'd like to return to television.

"I have found that if I planned a goal and worked toward it, the plan usually worked out," said Horton, who started acting as an undergraduate at the University of Miami.

"The only time it didn't was when I was in motion pictures. After making several films I was dropped by my studio. For a year I couldn't get anything. I couldn't even get arrested."

"That was a big shock to me. I got hold of myself and started planning again. I decided I wanted to be able to perform in as many fields of show business as possible."

Until five years ago Horton had never sung professionally. A brief singing role in summer stock led him, with the encouragement of his wife, to take voice lessons.

His moment of doubt came when producers offered him another long-term contract in a television series. The money was enough to guarantee him financial security for life. But he turned it down.

"I would have had it made—but I don't want to have it made," he said. "That's disastrous. I just want to go on making it."

He is looking forward as eagerly as a beginner to his first night club tour.

"I'm still as enthusiastic about this business as I was when I was a sophomore in college," he remarked. "It's nice to earn your living in the way you want to."

Coffee beans have to be hand-picked.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You were shocked to learn about the co-educational pajama parties being held on hundreds of U. S. campuses — and with the blessings of the college administrations.

Well, let me tell you what goes on at a large Midwestern university, according to my daughter who attends that fine school.

Last February a junior boy asked her if she would like to attend a yard party. She remarked a yard party in February didn't make much sense because it's usually bitter cold up there that time o' year.

He told her the party wasn't in the yard — it was in the fraternity house. The "yard" part of it meant that the girl was to buy a yard of material and make two costumes — one for herself and one for the boy.

My daughter was shocked and said she was not interested. Two months later she spoke with a girl who attended such a party, and reported "it was oodles of fun." Any comment? — MADNESS IN THE MIDWEST.

Dear Madness: I never have heard of a yard party — but then I never had heard of co-educational pajama parties either.

A few years ago I was appalled when the bikinis were introduced and didn't believe anyone would dare to wear one. Now some women are ready to throw the tops away and wear only the bottoms.

Already several nutty exhibitionists have appeared in topless suits and caused predictable "incidents." If you ask me, the human race is having a mass nervous breakdown.

Unhappy Anniversary

Dear Ann: My mother, who has been widowed since last March, has made me feel like a lowdown skunk because I did not send her an anniversary card.

I told her I was under the impression that wedding anniversaries are not celebrated after one of the marriage partners passes away. She replied, "Don't make excuses for your thoughtlessness. You should have sent me a card and left it to me to celebrate in my own way."

If I'm wrong I would like to apologize. My wife tells me I'm NOT wrong and that my mother is mistaken. How about this? — CONNECTICUT YANKEE.

Dear Yankee: The anniversary of a marriage terminated by death does not call for a celebration.

Your mother probably was feeling particularly blue that day and it would have been nice if you had taken her out to dinner. But an anniversary card would have made no sense.

Watzless Matilda

Dear Ann: Byron and I have been arguing about something for weeks. We are both 22, although you probably will think we sound like 9-year-olds.

Whenever Byron and I go to a party or a dance, he disappears the minute we arrive and I'm on my own.

One of the big problems is thatt B r y o n s a i e r t l i f e that Byron is a terrific dancer and I'm just fair. He always hunts up the shimmy queen of the crowd and never checks to see what I'm doing.

Believe me, I like him to dance with other girls but when he doesn't dance even one number with me I feel like a fifth wheel. I've told him he is inconsiderate but he says I'm childish and demanding.

What do you say? —STRANDED.

Dear Stranded: This is a date? If you drove your own car you wouldn't need Byron.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Pretty good looking bunch of men, wouldn't you say? They are a total of 150 years older than they were when the picture up at the left was taken, 750 pounds heavier, a couple of them are getting a mite thin on the top of the head, and one is graying in a most distinguished fashion, but they are all healthy, handsome and prosperous. Bob Fichtel and Ed Biglin are still bachelors, the others have a total of 14 children, three of whom are too young to be in the picture below. They got together on the Fourth of July for the picture above, and they all said that Isaly Skyscraper Cones are still the best lickin' ever!

It was the Fourth of July... the 188th anniversary of the independence of our country... when these men got together. To commemorate the day, and because we are so glad to be living in a country where things like Ice Cream Cones continue to be important from one generation to another, we gave each of them a $25.00 United States Savings Bond.

Isaly Skyscrapers are just like they were 25 years ago, only more so! They are cool and creamy and full of flavor. They're colder than the partially-frozen custard type, naturally, and firmer than the soft product. That means they don't melt so fast. None of those rivulets of sticky goop clear to the elbow, or down the front of a spanking clean pinafore when you give your youngsters Isaly Skyscrapers... REAL ICE CREAM, every inch of the way. (We won't kid you about the price: they cost a nickel or a dime more than they used to. What doesn't?)

Extreme Vigor vs. Extremism

Sen. Goldwater is being urged to explain what he means by "extremism." One of the toughest tricks of politics is avoiding misunderstanding.

The trick is made tougher when a politician's every word is subject to distortion.

When Sen. Goldwater said in his acceptance speech: "Extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. Moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue" — he exposed himself to misunderstanding by both friends and opponents.

Some thought he meant liberty should be defended with extreme vigor; that justice should be pursued the same way.

But Sen. Goldwater is being asked to explain what he really meant by people thinking more about the extremism of some of the senator's extremist backers. What do they think he meant?

His backers in the John Birch Society have been represented as holding positions shockingly extreme.

Their kind of extremism is to be feared whenever and wherever it bobs up, because it makes the end justify the means.

It is the kind used by Adolf Hitler to justify "Mein Kampf" against communism. It was used by Communist party counter-revolutionists to liquidate Russian peasants. It has been used by the Ku Klux Klan in this country to justify violence.

Crossover between the word "extremism" and the attitude of extremists has sparked off a quibble similar to the quibbles over the Republican platform. Party moderates, exemplified by former President Eisenhower, are trying to put Sen. Goldwater at a disadvantage in a battle of words.

This is part of the contest for control of the Republican party and should be so viewed. As the contest goes on — and let no one think it ended when the delegates left San Francisco — Sen. Goldwater will have many occasions to thread his way through the maze of semantics.

How much simpler it would have been to have said:

"Extreme vigor in the defense of liberty is no vice. Half-heartedness in the pursuit of virtue is no virtue" — if that is what he intended to say.

FBI In Mississippi

No man has greater cause to be concerned about white supremacists in Mississippi than J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The new Civil Rights Act makes his bureau responsible for assembling the information on which federal courts will depend in enforcement of this controversial law. Courts, not policemen, have been given responsibility for putting the law into effect.

Complainants will not rely on local and state police for protection under the Civil Rights Act in states where the new law must be invoked. They would find no satisfaction in states like Mississippi, which mans its police forces with white supremacists.

Complaints go to federal courts as a final resort.

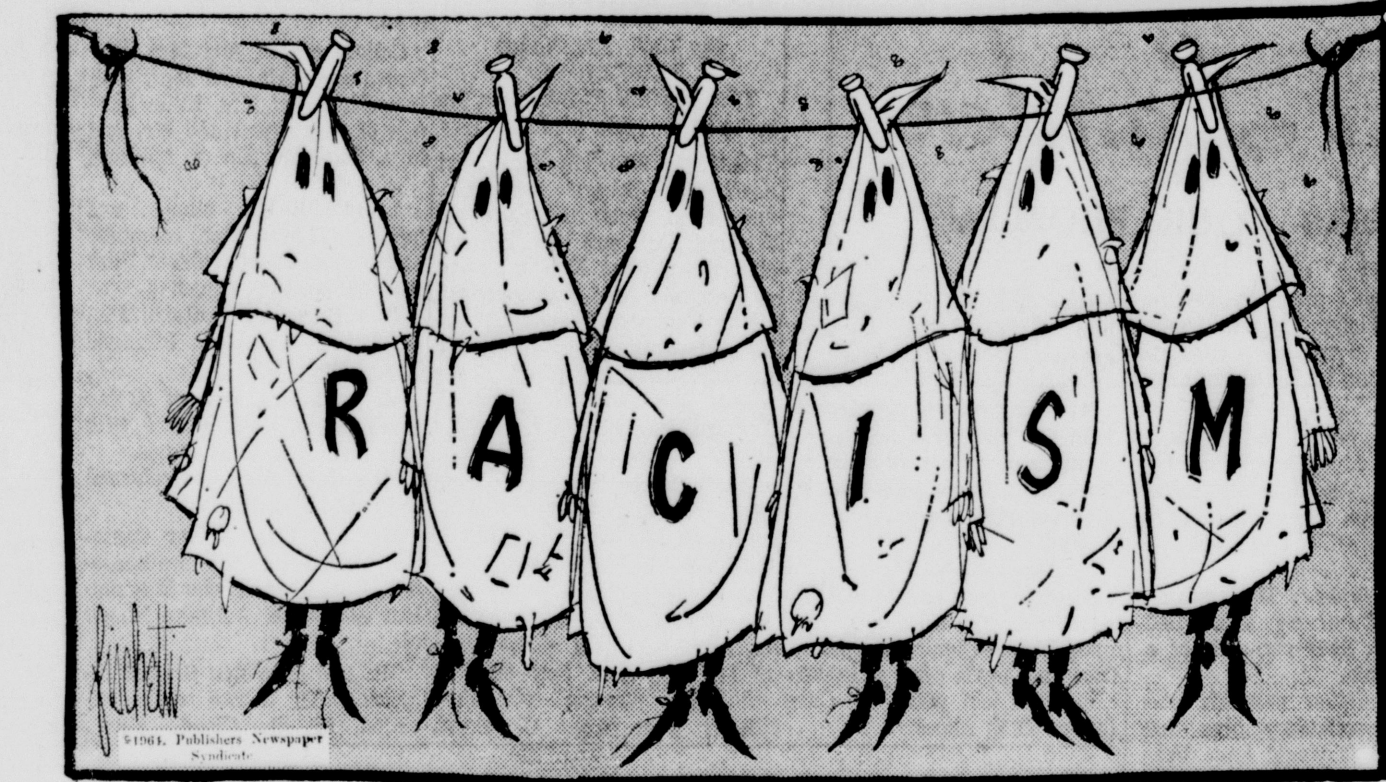

The attorney general of the United States is authorized to sue for an end to segregation in any public facility aside from schools and is permitted to intervene in other cases where an individual claims he is discriminated against because of race, color, or religion.

The attorney general is allowed to initiate school desegregation suits. One objection to the law when it was being discussed in Congress was his wide grant of authority to the U.S. Department of Justice.

But there was no choice. In states where civil rights are withheld from Negroes, local and state law enforcement agencies are uniformly responsible for the withholding. They are controlled by the extremists who scoff at the Civil Rights Act.

Mr. Hoover and the FBI will have to collect all the evidence for the Department of Justice and the federal judiciary in handling civil rights cases. That is why they now are conspicuously busy in Mississippi, which is still the last-ditch stronghold of once-surrendered but never licked Confederacy.

The FBI has no power to enforce law, only to collect objective evidence in situations where it is claimed law was violated. This in itself will be a revolutionary tactic in Mississippi, where only whites have had the benefit of objective evidence.

U.S. Rewarding Enemy

By VICTOR RIESEL

DAKAR, SENEGAL — The military dictatorship of the vast and mysterious Sudan, whose capital is fabled har-tum, is taking millions of dollars from the U.S. to run banks and develop the nation while pledging to "fight side by side" with Communism.

To prevent news of this and other reports of Sudanese collaboration with Peking, I have been banned from that country at the personal orders of Gen. Ibrahim Abboud, president of the Supreme Council of the Armed Forces, prime minister and minister of defense of the Sudan.

Thus far this pledge of military support to the Mao Tse-tung government has gone unreported in the U.S. The promise of strong backing was made by Gen. Abboud himself during his recent five-day state visit to the Chinese mainland — a trip which got scant notice in America. Gen. Abboud, absolute ruler of the Republic of the Sudan, arrived in Peking on May 16.

TO EMPHASIZE the vital nature of the trip, he took with him most of the important Sudanese leadership. Intelligence reports from Communist China reveal, that Abboud and his colleagues slashed at the U.S. and our allies in a series of public speeches — details of which should be made known to our people.

This pleased the Chinese Communist leaders, since the Sudan is a huge land which could control the Blue and White Niles. It is as big as the United Kingdom, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Belgium combined.

Gen. Abboud's attacks on the United States began the very night of his arrival in Peking. The United States and our Western allies were bitterly excoriated by the Chinese head of state Liu Shao-Chi, chairman of the "Chinese People's Republic" in his speech of welcome to the Sudanese.

GEN. ABOUDD then replied with an equally angry attack on the West — an address in which he referred to the Communist Chinese as "freedom fighters."

"The Chinese people, who yesterday waged a heroic, tenacious struggle to free mankind from oppression," Abboud said, "are fighting today for dignity."

"Tomorrow they will help weak and small nations gain freedom, progress and prosperity."

"All the people of my country are your friends. We hold that the Chinese brothers will be, as they have been, a symbol of all freedom fighters of the world, a symbol of the fighters who are struggling for all those who cherish freedom. "We look forward to the future when our two peoples will fight side by side. Tomorrow can only bring us closer together."

THE SUDANESE military dictator left no doubt of his stand on the fighting in Viet Nam and Laos. He said bluntly that all Western forces should withdraw from Southeast Asia. He and his entourage enthusiastically applauded whenever their Chinese Communist hosts attacked us for aiding the people of South Viet Nam and the neutralist government of Laos.

This distaste for the U.S. was especially apparent at a mass rally in Peking on May 18 held in honor of Gen. Abboud.

The Sudanese joined in the applause and cheering when P'eng Chen, mayor of Peking, charged that the U.S. is trying its utmost to expand the war of aggression in South Viet Nam and is attempting to draw the armed forces of SEATO and NATO nations and Japan into South Viet Nam, into new military adventure. . . . China can by no means turn a blind eye to this situation.

"We hold that all nations and people who are concerned about and who support peace in Indochina and Southeast Asia . . . should immediately adopt effective measures to stop U.S. imperialism from carrying out its criminal acts and war adventures there. . . ."

THE SUDANESE joined in the prolonged applause when Chen warned that the U.S. "will most assuredly be met with a more deplorable defeat" if we don't abandon the Vietnamese and the Laotians.

Yet it is to the pro-Peking military government of the Sudan that the American Agency for International Development (AID) is lending millions. Four U.S. specialists are assisting in operating Gen. Abboud's Industrial Bank of Sudan. An American AID loan has recently provided "an additional $2 million capitalization for the bank. . . ."

according to an official AID report.

In the fiscal year 1965, AID will continue to provide technical assistance within the framework of the Sudan's Ten-Year Plan. We are helping to develop their highways and other facilities.

Yet there are African nations such as Senegal here and others in nearby West Africa which could use the extra dollars. Here, in hotels, on the streets and even among the usually militant university students, Americans are warmly greeted. You are asked if you are American. When you say "oui," the reply, always with smiles and handshakes, is, "C'est bon, c'est bon."

It is good to be among friends — especially when their friendship is not bought with dollars. Why, then, reward our enemies?

Letter From Max

By Martin R. Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

You once mentioned a long-gone unhappy fling with the great sport of golf. I never dreamed that one of your physical prowess had ever attempted this exacting pastime.

Likewise, you never dreamed that I once had a fling with soccer, which has been given some prominence in the communications media lately.

As you probably know, soccer combines the constant running and long-windedness needed for the game of basketball with somewhat less of the physical contact experienced in American football.

Even in a formal game of soccer with 11 men on a team there is great dashing up and down a long field, testing the endurance of the players.

The soccer I am telling about was an after-school scrub game with never more than five or six boys playing, which made for two or three on each side. One bad day only three boys could be mustered, which pitted one against two and multiplied the area to be covered by geometrical proportions.

THE ZEST this intensified competition engendered was compounded by frequent bad weather of the winter school year, such as snow, rain, sleet and either hard-frozen ground or a thawing quagmire.

The person directly responsible for this soccer craze in our school group was a boy who came by his love of the game through older brothers who had played the game on the other side of the Atlantic in their native land.

This soccer fanatic showed us that all that was needed to launch a match was a city lot or country field, a ball and an agreement on the goals, which could be marked by clumps of grass, sweaters, tin cans, or almost anything else.

We did not need a hardwood court or baskets, or football padding and cross-bars on the goals. The only other sport that comes to mind requiring such minimum is touch football. But this guy was a soccer nut, so we played soccer.

He showed us how to dribble the ball with the feet, feint, back up, sidestep, drive long kicks, shoulder an opponent aside and butt the ball with the head, which is more brain-adding than appears to the uninitiated spectator.

BEGINNERS usually worry about getting kicked in the shins, and this is indeed a hazard. But strangely enough his prophecy that this drawback was over-emphasized turned out to be true for us learners. Shin-kicking decreased with proficiency, and the pain diminished with repetition, or so it seemed.

Passersby must have shaken their heads in wonder at seeing a small group of disheveled boys galloping over a snow-covered field or splashing through mud chasing the ball. We played until dusk or until supertime, whichever came first.

With all the other sports holding sway in the United States today it is not likely that soccer will make much headway, but I just wanted to put in a plug for it to help keep my record as a backer of lost causes intact.

Faithfully yours,
Max

The tumult and the shouting are over but the real battle has just begun. It isn't simply a debate between two rival candidates for the presidency. It's a struggle, by the use of all manner of communication media workers and party to make millions of voters believe either that it will be a disaster to elect one nominee or that it means Utopia to choose the other.

But things aren't always as political manipulation makes them out to be. How bewildering, for instance, to watch on the TV all the emotional demonstrations for Gov. Scranton and to hear him say harsh things critical of Sen. Goldwater and of the platform, only to listen to him the next night imploring his own supporters to unite behind the party's nominee. Indeed, the Pennsylvania governor, in a speech written before the roll call of states but read after Mr. Goldwater was victorious, said:

"I shall work for and fully support the ticket chosen by this convention. Though many of us felt that the platform could be improved, all of us can find it acceptable."

Then what was all the furor about? This, it must be said in reply, is politics, and it wouldn't be half as ambiguous or misleading if the American people took the time to read, not just during a convention but through the years in between, the facts about their government and the practices of the politicians.

THIS CORRESPONDENT has covered 13 national campaigns, beginning in 1912, and, with the exception of the conventions that year, has been present at the 25 conventions held since. They often eav an impression of confusion. Even the dictionaries do not give satisfactory definitions of the words used in the war of epigrams. Nor can the statements that get the most applause on the stump always be readily understood.

Sen. Goldwater, for instance, said to the convention in his acceptance speech:

"I would remind you that extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. And let me remind you also that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

This could be taken to mean that the Arizona senator was reaffirming the right of our forefathers to revolt against an English king.

It could mean that the disorderly demonstrations conducted recently by some of the Negro organizations are defensible because the objective was considered by them to be worthy.

The two sentences quoted could have been aimed, on the other hand, at those who wanted to insert in the Republican platform a condemnation of "extremism." Sen. Goldwater has since said that he didn't have "political extremism" in mind.

PARTY CONVENTIONS are sometimes spectacular, but they do not always reflect the wishes of the people — and yet it is not easy to know what the people want or how they feel. In sections of the press, moreover, there is too much emotional criticism and not enough objective analysis.

Sen. Goldwater has been portrayed, for instance, as an irresponsible, imprudent and impulsive man. He has been thus pictured by some writers and speakers in this country whose viewpoint is accepted as gospel by European editorial writers and the latter now hysterically predict America is about to go down the drain.

Nor can it be said that an opposition party either here or in Europe always exercises forbearance when it comes to characterizing the incumbent. So unfortunately, the coming campaign will be a battle of words — of invectives and innuendoes, of glowing promises and boastful pledges by both sides.

Not What They Seem

Yet, when the votes are finally counted, it will be found that the collective judgment, even if wrong, puts into the White House a man who feels the restraints of a tremendous responsibility and of a trusteeship that includes concern for the lives and welfare not only of the members of his own party but of all the people.

As for international affairs, no man in the White House is ever going to precipitate war or do anything rash, but here again distortions can be spread.

Words of appeasement, on the other hand, may sound as if they are pacific and prudent. Often they merely stimulate the potential enemy to take chances and then war comes.

BOTH WORLD WARS of this century might have been prevented if some of the resoluteness which is often called "war mongering" today had been present then in the governments of Western Europe and in the United States, too.

Maybe someday presidential campaigns will stress the integrity and common sense of a candidate and not what he said in a speech years before or how he voted when he hadn't quite realized the true pressures of public opinion on a given issue.

It's most important that there should be an informed electorate and a perceptive one. Otherwise the wiles of party politics tend to blur the image of a system of government which, after all, must depend for its effectiveness on the support of patriotic and intelligent voters.

Both world wars of this century might have been prevented if some of the resoluteness which is often called "war mongering" today had been present then in the governments of Western Europe and in the United States, too.

Maybe someday presidential campaigns will stress the integrity and common sense of a candidate and not what he said in a speech years before or how he voted when he hadn't quite realized the true pressures of public opinion on a given issue.

It's most important that there should be an informed electorate and a perceptive one. Otherwise the wiles of party politics tend to blur the image of a system of government which, after all, must depend for its effectiveness on the support of patriotic and intelligent voters.

Wars No One Can Win

By Dr. GEORGE S. BENSON

The late General Douglas MacArthur, in speeches and testimony after he was relieved from his command in the Korean conflict, revealed his amazement that American lives should be so freely spent on stalemate wars that seemed to have no foreseeable outcome.

Wide dissemination has been given to recent statements of U. S. military officers in South Vietnam voicing similar feelings. The Congress has increasingly heard complaints that underscore the frustration of the American people in supporting and fighting so-called "limited" wars that are never really adequately explained in terms of our foreign policy or national purpose.

AS THIS IS WRITTEN, newspaper front pages are two-thirds filled with news of the conflict in Southeast Asia. The public feeling, of which Billy Graham's "get in or get out" statement is a sample, has been stirred deeply in recent weeks with all sorts of revelations about this war.

It is not inconceivable that by now a decision will have been made or even action taken that will affect the tension one way or another. But the American people have been slow to react about this far away conflict. For the most part, they have not understood the background and have not had the facts.

Only lately has it been brought out clearly enough in public information media that this is a struggle not between Vietnamese factions but between the Red Chinese and the rest of the free world.

Southeast Asia is a rich prize, a gate for further penetration into the rich island countries. Mao wants to open this area to hungry Chinese Communism and control it all, as the Soviet Union has done in Eastern Europe. Apparently Russia is not opposed to this expansion. But Mao faces U. S. power and prestige standing squarely in his way to conquest.

Whether the war could be changed in character by any action of our own is of course a problem now being deeply studied

Man a the Complaint Window

Though you've seen him a dozen times at least and laughed at him each time, the name may still be a bit fuzzy — John McGiver. He was the jew elry salesman in "Breakfast at Tiff's," the man who forgot the name of his bank one recent Sunday night in the "Du Pont" comedy, "The Missing Bank of Rupert X. Humperdink," and he always seems to be the man who blows in from Scotland Yard in every Act III ever written.

But never mind, the name McGiver will surely be quite celebrated this fall when the gentlemen stars in his own comedy series for CBS-TV, "Many Happy Returns." You will immediately recognize the darkly ringed blue eyes, the bald pate and the peculiar enunciation. (Each word seems to be carefully formed by a tongue that's just been bitten; then the word has been sent out into the world through the echo chambers of the McGiver nose.) It's no wonder the man reminds some people of Donald McBride and others of W. C. Fields, but he is his own man all the way.

"MANY HAPPY RETURNS," says McGiver, is "good family entertainment, not too hip, a nice antidote to the violent stuff." And: "When I mention it's about a fellow at the complaint window of a department store, people laugh. Well, I hope they are right. But the one who might run off with the whole thing, God forbid, is Andrea Sacino, a four-year-old who plays my granddaughter. She's not coy or sweet but cute as a tack."

McGiver should know. His family of ten children comprises approximately 10 per cent of the population of the wee town in which they live — Fulton, in upstate N. Y. The McGiver homestead is an old steeple building that was formerly a church; and McGiver runs a country store nearby, calling it The Church Bell. He opened his store because he wished to give local craftsmen a place in which to display their wares: shawls, throw rugs, seat covers, candles, wooden bowls, maple syrup.

I talked with McGiver during a recent New York visit in which he closed down (temporarily) the home in Fulton and packed his progeny off to Santa Monica, Calif. "It shouldn't be too hard on the children out there," he said, "since we're a block from the ocean and we're renting from a guy with ten kids and a pregnant wife. I must say, however, that I had two of my teen-aged daughters out with me last summer and I'd tried impressing them with a cottage at Malibu, the nicest restaurants in town, a couple of fishing expeditions, a tour of the MGM studios, and an introduction to Bob Hope, but you know teen-agers. Bob said, 'How do you like Hollywood?' They said, 'Aw, it's all right.'"

"MY BOY, BASIL, is perhaps none too happy about the move at the moment. He had to sell his 40 chickens, the goat and the sheep. Terry, who's 13, doesn't seem to mind. Five or six years ago, I took him with me on a tour with 'The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker,' in which he had a role. I banked almost all the money he made but gave him an allowance of a few dollars a week. Every once in a while now, he says, 'Gee, I wish I was an actor again. I miss those three bucks a week.'"

McGiver, as you'd guess, is rather sold on the charms of a big family. "Two children," he feels, "are a burden, constantly in strife. But after you have had three, your troubles are gone. You stop being a parent and begin being an administrator."

The young McGivers are not terribly impressed with their father's profession or talents, though. "They can take me or leave me alone," John told me. "I remember Terry watching one of my TV jobs for about ten minutes and then giving up on it. He said, 'Boy, you better not tell people about this one!'"

NEVERTHELESS, Papa McGiver will have a lot to tell people through next season. "Many Happy Returns" will keep him on-screen almost constantly, as Walter Burnley, the sweet-tempered complaints man. And his contribution, unlike that of many TV actors, will be confined solely to acting. "I'm too busy doing that," he says "than to worry about the director's art or where the camera's pointing. Some day I'll write a book and find out what TV is all about. Meanwhile, I'll leave the fretting about camera angles to the younger actors."

Younger actors, McGiver feels, should concentrate strictly on their performance. He quoted a comment of Walter Kerr's about a burgeoning actor-director-producer after a disastrous opening night: "This young man has delusions of adequacy."

So They Say

I won't say there is no such thing as free enterprise, but the only people who practice it today are boys playing marbles. They have no parity payments, guaranteed collective bargaining or government subsidies.

—Norman Thomas, 79, six-time Socialist party candidate for the presidency.

DEAR HELOISE: If you are in a real big hurry and want to give your black patent shoes a quick shine, wipe them with a slice of store bread. It's a good, quick shine.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Before vacuuming, I use a CLEAN, slightly damp sponge mop on the carpeting, as I have three long-haired dogs. Not only do I get the hair off the carpets, but the surface dust as well.

MIA LIERBOE.

DEAR HELOISE: For the ladies who have several hats and hat boxes and always seem to open the wrong hat box before finding the right one, here is what I did:

I use a felt marker and write exactly which hat or hats the box contains.

I find this saves much time and aggravation.

C.L.C.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that you can use a furnace filter in your window, instead of a ventilator, when a window fan is running in another window? It filters the dust and keeps it out of the house. It's wonderful for people who are allergic to dust.

MRS. E. SMITH.

DEAR HELOISE: If you carry the police emergency phone number in a handy place in your purse, you are ready to help a person who becomes suddenly ill, or an animal injured by a car, without the sudden panic that hits you in the face of sudden distress.

Even in a big city you are sometimes unable to find a policeman on duty, and time lost may be fatal to an ill or injured person.

And then there is always the possibility that one needs to ask aid for oneself!

DOROTHY SCHEER

DEAR HELOISE: For girls who like to bake brown bread, banana loaf, etc. . . . instead of using a regular loaf pan, try baking your bread in the tin cans that fruits and vegetables come in. They make nice round loaves, and are especially nice for party sandwiches.

But DO NOT fill the cans too full, or they may bake over into the oven.

MRS. J. S. H.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Dr. King Due In Mississippi

To Help Strengthen Freedom Party

JACKSON, Miss (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King comes to this racially troubled state today to aid the newly formed Mississippi Freedom Democratic party in its drive to unseat the all-white regular Democratic delegation to next month's national convention.

Civil rights leaders said Dr. King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership conference, would spend at least five days in the state, speaking at mass rallies in Jackson, Greenwood, Meridian and Vicksburg.

Another Negro leader, James Farmer, the Texas-born national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, is scheduled to arrive in Mississippi later this week to boost the Freedom Democratic party movement.

Even before the formal announcement organizing the Freedom Democrats Monday the group had received assurances from regular Democratic delegations in New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Oregon, California and Colorado of support on the floor of the Democratic National Convention which begins Aug. 24 at Atlantic City, N.J.

Victoria Gray, a Hattiesburg Negro housewife, said the party was formed because Mississippi Negroes haven't been able to vote in sufficient numbers to force a change in the regular Democratic party structure.

Mrs. Gray, an unsuccessful candidate against Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., in the recent named as the Freedom Democrats' national committeewoman.

The national committeewoman is the Rev. Edwin King, a white Methodist minister who is chairman at predominantly Negro Tougaloo College near Jackson. The Freedom Democrats plan precinct meetings this week, followed by county conventions and a state convention here Aug. 6.

Mrs. Gray said a campaign would be launched to get 100,000 Negroes to sign a "freedom registration roll" to dramatize to the national convention the number of Negroes disfranchised in the state.

Mississippi, according to unofficial estimates has about 26,000 registered Negro voters out of 450,000 of voting age.

The regular Democrats hold their state convention here July 28 to name their national delegates and decide on a course in the presidential election.

Unpledged elector forces of former Gov. Ross Barnett are expected to hold the upper hand at the state convention. Barnett had been backing the candidacy of Alabama Gov. George Wallace, who withdrew from the presidential race Sunday.

Cuba to supply pro-Communist guerrillas. The finding was confirmed by an OAS investigating committee.

An ambassadorial commission prepared three resolutions, considered as working papers, for the foreign ministers conference.

One of these would condemn Cuba for aggression against Venezuela and call for the suspension of all trade—with the exception of food and medical supplies—between members of the Organization of American States and Cuba.

It also would call for the suspension of all maritime communication between member states and Cuba.

The resolution then would recommend—but would not require—a break in diplomatic and consular relations by member states.

It further would recommend the suspension of all air communications with Cuba.

No Progress Made In Ohio Edison Talks

The company made a proposal to the union, in which it agreed to drop its request that the Accident Prevention Hand Book no longer be subject to negotiation.

fired into the air and broke it up.

Later, a crowd of about 250 formed in front of the CORE office. They cheered when Farmer said more Negro policemen would be sent to Harlem.

But when he urged them to go home, they shouted, "No, no. When they (white police) go home, we go home."

They marched in circles in the street, chanting "We want justice," and then moved to a residential area. When shouts of "Get some guns" started, police moved in, fired shots in the air and the crowd dispersed.

A melee erupted at a bar early today when two patrolmen chased two men who had thrown rocks into a supermarket. The bar door was locked and the patrolmen broke it down. Police reinforcements arrived.

Five persons, including two patrolmen were injured, in the battle. A mirror, bottles, light fixtures and bar stools were smashed. One Negro was arrested.

At about the same time, disorders broke out in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn.

They started, police said, with a demonstration by about 100 members of CORE, who appeared calm and displayed no violence.

A crowd formed and after the demonstrators left some 300 to 400 persons surged through the streets. Bottles were thrown and a store window was smashed. Several protective metal screens were torn from store fronts.

Police said no looting was reported.

In an hour or two police had broken up the crowd.

USS Alabama To Make Its Last Journey

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A hulking, gray ghost of World War II will lumber out of Puget Sound late today on a 50-day trip through the Panama Canal to Mobile, Ala., where it will be enshrined as a museum in a marine park.

If the USS Alabama was making the trip in its heyday, it would take seven days or so. Aboard would be 2,500 men, including an admiral.

But that was 20 years ago when going to the moon was a Buck Rogers dream and battleships like the Alabama ruled the seas.

When the 35,000-ton vessel departs today, it will be empty. Its giant 40-inch main gun and a phalanx of 40mm guns will look threatening, but they'll be impotent.

Nine radar screens that once tracked Japanese Zeros have been installed in their old spots. But only because they look nice.

Two tugs, the Sea Ranger and Sea Robin, will go on the 5,600-mile journey with the Alabama attached on wire and chain rope about a half mile behind.

The entire project of readying the giant war veteran for the trip and preparing a suitable resting place is costing Alabamans $1 million.

They are organized under the USS Alabama Battleship Commission. Their guiding spirit is a Mobile insurance man, Stephen G. Croom.

With Patients

Michael Thomas, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thomas of RD 1, Homeworth, was treated Monday at 4:30 p.m. at the Alliance City Hospital for a laceration of the right hand.

GETS ANOTHER CHANCE

LISBON — An Akron man was given another chance at probation Monday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzard.

L. D. LaFever, 29, was placed on five years' probation Jan. 10, 1963, for theft June 1962 of an auto belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth E. Beatty of Glenmoor.

He was ordered into court and failed to appear, and was then picked up by Akron police. He was cited for failing to make restitution for the auto and for not paying his court costs.

Glen Lee, 21, and Boobie Price, 22, also of Akron, were sentenced to 1-20 years for their part in the theft.

Balloons were used for military observation as early as 1794, and later more extensively by both the Union and Confederate armies during the American War Between the States, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

MAN HURT IN FALL

LISBON — A 73-year-old painter was injured Monday at 1:30 p.m. when he fell while painting a house.

Bradbury was taken to Salem City Hospital where he is in fairly good condition with back injuries.

SOUTHERN BOARD MEETS

The Board of Education of Southern Local District met in regular session Monday night but a report was unavailable since Mrs. Joann Dixon, new clerk who replaced Robert Cole, is attending a clerk's clinic at Kent State University today.

The group will meet Wednesday night at 8:30 to make further plans for the proposed renewal and additional operating levies of 4.4 mills each to be put on the ballot in November.

Comedian Stan Laurel Hospitalized

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Stan Laurel, 73, the surviving member of the all-time great comedy team of Laurel and Hardy, lies ill today in a hospital from a diabetic attack.

He has been there since last Thursday—and no one is supposed to know about it. But somehow, 1,000 letters a day have come to the hospital from Laurel and Hardy aficionados.

"Stanley is amazed that people are so concerned," said a close friend. "Every nurse and doctor in the hospital finds some excuse to come in his room, just to talk with him. It's amazing, the love his fans have for this great comedian."

West Valley Baptist Hospital in nearby Encino won't even admit that the English-born comedian is a patient.

"We have no one here by that name," hospital attendants say tersely.

But Laurel himself, via the close friend, leaked the word so that he could publicly thank the thousands who have written him. "I don't know how people found out," the friend quoted Laurel, "but tell them all thanks."

In their prime, Laurel and Hardy had a fan club in Europe that numbered more than two million members. His former partner, Oliver Hardy, died in 1957.

Coal will be purchased from the Chamberlain Coal Co., who quoted a price of $7.50 a ton for lump and $6 for stoker coal. The board asked that bread bids be re-submitted.

Ben Bella Gaining Tighter Hold on Reins In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—Most of President Ahmed Ben Bella's enemies are in full retreat, and every new move against him seems only to tighten his one-man rule over Algeria.

Everywhere except in the Kabylie Mountains, the loyal national army is in full control. Rebel leaders are being picked up one by one or are fleeing into exile. All legal political opposition to Ben Bella's "Socialist revolution" is silenced.

Even in the Kabylie there is evidence that the traditionally rebellious Berber tribesmen, weary of almost 10 years of continuous guerrilla warfare, are wavering in their allegiance to insurgent leader Hocine Ait Ahmed.

Ben Bella's popularity appears to be declining everywhere as his pseudo-Marxist policies help to plunge the nation ever deeper into economic crisis. But for the moment there is no trace of widespread popular revolt or of sympathy for fugitive rebels still calling for a general uprising. Nor is there any sign of disaffection in the army, the mainstay of Ben Bella's regime.

Although he is beset by towering economic problems, Ben Bella has emerged strengthened from every class with his hopelessly divided opponents.

Col. Mohamed Chaabani, who tried to stir the Sahara against Ben Bella, was betrayed by the same population that helped him for eight years to elude the French. His arrest roused not a stir of sympathy.

Maj. Ben Ahmed Moussa, who started a guerrilla campaign in the Oran area, was picked up in the same way. Several persons are under death sentences or awaiting trial for attacks on police and officials of the ruling National Liberation Front—FLN.

Col. Mohand Ou El Hadj, once commander of Ait Ahmed's guerrillas, has switched to the government cause and is raising a loyal militia in the heart of the Kabylie.

Mohamed Khider, former secretary-general of the FLN, fled abroad with more than a million dollars of party funds. He claimed he wanted the money used to help unseat Ben Bella, but the government propaganda machine seems to have succeeded in discrediting his motives.

Western diplomats are convinced that if the rebels succeeded Algeria would collapse into chaos and anarchy. The Western powers have quietly fallen in line with the Soviet Union in doing all they can to bolster the Ben Bella regime.

"It often sticks in our throats, but we don't have any choice," one Western ambassador commented.

group has not been increased since 1952, although officers with longer service have received three raises since then.

Monthly raises for personnel with less than two years of service would range from $18.78 for a warrant officer to $22.04 for a first lieutenant.

Enlisted personnel with less than two years of service would get nothing more, the argument being that they primarily are in a training status and are eligible for built-in raises under existing law.

Increases would range from $2.80 for a private with more than two years of service to $49.30 more for a top general. Rookies now receive $83.20 monthly after four months of service. A general receives $1,970 monthly.

sive side of the civil rights question out of the presidential campaign.

"I don't want to see any words of mine or anyone connected with me touch anything off," he said. "I'm not going to inject this issue and I don't think he (Johnson) is."

"Let's give this law a chance to work," Goldwater said of the new civil rights measure he opposed in the Senate.

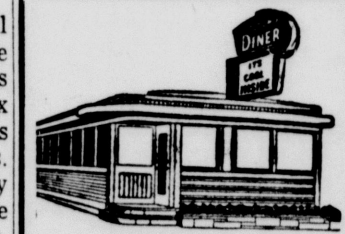

A reporter asked Goldwater about the possibility of an agreement between the Republican and Democratic contenders for the presidency to avert campaign measures that would increase tension.

"I think that's a very good idea and that's gone through my mind," Goldwater said. "I would welcome a chance to sit down with the President and discuss this particular issue that might come up."

The senator criticized the way civil rights laws are being enforced now.

"We have laws on the books which if adequately enforced, a solution to the civil rights problem would be forthcoming," he said. "The right to vote is guaranteed. The attorney general has not enforced that law, so he has acted in moderation."

"So they have their rights," Goldwater added. "What they need is better enforcement of the law."

Browns' Coach Believes 10-4 Mark Will Win Loop

Cites Keener Competition Plans To Cut Team Down For Exhibition

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier says he believes the 10-4 record the Cleveland Browns compiled last season should be good enough to win the Eastern Division championship in the National Football League this year.

"The challenge this year may be even greater," Collier declared. "Our team last year surprised a lot of people. We were picked to finish fourth on down."

The Browns were runnersup to the New York Giants in the division last year.

"Competition will be that Collier said the squad would be cut to 50 before traveling to California for exhibition games in San Francisco and Los Angeles early next month. That means only five players will be cut from the present squad, indicating rookies will get an excellent chance to show what they can do.

The coach introduced Nick Skorich, former boss of the Philadelphia Eagles and now defensive line coach for the Browns, to the squad.

Collier said "some way we are going to get" a hard-charging defensive line. He said Skorich told him how some other teams in the league feel about the Browns and "we were a little shocked at some of the things they thought they could do to us."

The squad concentrated on sprints Monday.

Detroit Edges Boston 7-5

Rookie Buford's Heavy Hitting Gives White Sox 9-0 Triumph

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Little Don Buford is growing into his White Sox almost as fast as the patched-up Chicagoans are growing on the American League.

Buford, a pre-season Rookie-of-the-Year candidate who fizzled during the early going, continued his recent surge Monday night, driving in four runs with a homer, triple and single as the streaking Sox shelled the Los Angeles Angels 9-0 and climbed to within one-half game of the league lead.

Dick McAuliffe's two-run homer and Don Wert's tie-breaking single carried Detroit to a 7-5 victory over Boston in the only other AL game scheduled.

Cincinnati stunned Philadelphia 6-2; the Chicago Cubs overtook San Francisco 6-4 and Houston downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 in National League games.

The White Sox' victory was their fifth straight and ninth in the last 11 games. They trail first place Baltimore by four percentage points.

Buford, a 5-foot-8, 175-pound infielder up from Indianapolis, has hit at a .375 clip during the current Chicago spurt, raising his batting average 23 points to .263. The 27-year-old speedster, under the .200 mark until early in June, has hit safely in 10 of his last 11 games, with two homers, a triple and four doubles.

His three hits Monday supported rookie right-hander Fred Talbot, who evened his record at 3-3 and lowered his earned run average to a sparkling 2.16.

Talbot scattered nine hits enroute to his second shutout.

Bill Skowron, recently acquired from Washington, and Pete Ward each chipped in with two hits and Tom McCraw drove in three runs as Chicago halted the Angels' six-game winning string.

The White Sox now have won 55 and lost 24 against eight AL clubs for a .696 percentage, but have lost 10 of 10 to the New York Yankees, who they head by one game in the standings.

McAuliffe's 17th home run, in the eighth inning, pulled Detroit even at 5-5 before Wert doubled home Bill Freehan, who had singled, with the deciding run.

Red Sox Manager Johnny Pesky was ejected for disputing the call on a two-run homer by the Tigers' George Thomas in the seventh.

Center fielder Thomas made an unassisted double play in the

Cubs Knock Off Giants 6-4

High-Riding Cincy Cuts Phils' Margin In NL Race To 2½ Games

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Since Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson made his poignant "man upstairs" statement at the All-Star Game two weeks ago, the Reds have established themselves as legitimate contenders by trimming four games off their deficit and moving to within 2½ games of the front-runners.

The Reds, who won the 1961 pennant scramble, tightened up this year's race again Monday by knocking off the first-place Philadelphia Phillies 6-2 for their seventh victory in the last nine games while the second-place San Francisco Giants lost to the Chicago Cubs 6-4.

The Reds have been on the move, taking advantage of slumps by the Phillies and Giants, ever since Hutchinson spiked a rumor that he was resigning. The tall, stoop-shouldered manager, battling cancer, said at the time:

"I'll quit only if they fire me or if the man upstairs tells me."

The Reds' latest victory handed the Phillies their third loss in four games and ninth in the last 12. The Phillies, however, remained three percentage points ahead of the Giants, who now have lost six of their last eight.

Only one other game was scheduled in the National League. In that, the Houston Colts whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1, dropping the defending world champions below the .500 mark again.

The American League race also grew tighter as the second-place Chicago White Sox walloped the Los Angeles Angels 9-0 and crept to within one-half game of first-place Baltimore. In the only other AL game scheduled, Detroit defeated Boston 7-5.

The Phillies led 2-0 when Cincinnati began to battle back. Tommy Harper's two-run homer in the fifth off Dennis Bennett tied, then the Reds broke through in the sixth for the clinching runs on a walk to Don Pavletich, Leo Cardenas' double and a triple by Steve Boros. Pavletich wrapped it up with a two-run eighth inning homer.

Joe Nuxhall started for Cincinnati and paved the way for both Philadelphia runs walks by issuing walks to Cookie Rojas. Rojas scored in the first on a sacrifice fly by Tony Taylor following a wild pickoff attempt by Nuxhall and came around in the fifth on singles by Johnny Callison and Taylor.

Despite a strong performance, Nuxhall wasn't around at the end because of strong words to Umpire Mel Steiner on a pitch to Bobby Wine in the eighth inning. Billy McCool came on after Nuxhall was ejected and preserved his eighth victory against four losses.

The Giants scored three runs in the fifth inning on consecutive homers by Orlando Cepeda and Del Crandall and went into the ninth holding a 4-2 edge over the Cubs.

When Doug Clemens reached base on Hall Lanier's error and Billy Williams beat out an infield hit, Bob Shaw replaced Bob Bolin on the mound—and was immediately tagged for a three-run homer by Ron Santo that won it for the Cubs.

The Colts scored all their runs in the fourth inning on a triple by Joe Gaines, singles by Mike White and Bob Lillis, a walk and Jerry Grote's bases-clearing double. The Dodgers only run came in the seventh on singles by Tommy Davis and Wally Moon and a sacrifice fly by Nate Oliver.

The Dodgers also lost the services of catcher John Roseboro, their No. 1 hitter with a .310 average. Roseboro suffered a severe laceration on the middle finger of his right hand

Indians Face Orioles Tonight

Tribe Field Boss Still Optimistic

BALTIMORE (AP) — Cleveland Indians manager Birdie Tebbetts is showing no signs that he's given up faith in his eighth-place team.

If anything, he seems optimistic. The fact that third baseman Max Alvis is eligible to come off the disabled list next Monday after being sidelined with spinal meningitis, may have something to do with Birdie's outlook.

But the squeaky-voiced manager looks to his bullpen corps to give the team the lift it needs. With Gary Bell working much better lately, Tebbetts says his straighten out Ted Abernathy.

"When he gets going again, we'll have the deepest and best bullpen in the league with Bell, Abernathy, Don McMahon and Sonny Siebert," Tebbetts said Monday.

The Tribe meets American League-leading Baltimore in a doubleheader tonight. Cleveland has a 5-4 edge over the Orioles in their series so far this season.

Tribe ace Jack Kralick was scheduled tentatively to try for his 10th victory in the first game, if his pulled back muscle has healed. Either Dick Donovan or Lee Stange was expected to pitch the second. Dave McNally and Steve Barber were Baltimore's mound choices.

The Indians had an off day Monday.

Independent Hose Wins 14th, Leetonia Edges VFW 14-13

Independent Hose Company, the only unbeaten team in the junior baseball league, and a finalist in the Hot Stove sectional tourney, trimmed Hobbycraft 13-10 in regular loop play at Buckeye Field Monday.

Despite a sterling performance by Shane Franks, who belted a home run and single, driving in six runs, Merchants Vending dropped a 14-12 decision to Stark's Colonial Attic.

Leetonia 4022 tallied all its runs in the first five innings, then held on to nip VFW 14-13 in Class E at Centennial Park.

Mullins sent 17 batters to the plate in the first frame as it chalked up 13 runs and went on to post a 15-8 victory over Electric Furnace in Class F at Memorial Park.

Eljer pulled a mid upset as it handed Fisher News a 2-1 setback.

Bill Daley scored the winning run in the bottom of the sixth to give Petrucci's a 7-6 decision over Lions Club in Class G.

Scoring runs in every inning, Hunt's Independent Union beat Italian Club 18-6.

Key hits for Independent Hose, which won its 14th straight loop contest, were two triples and a single by Tom Galchick, a triple by Bill Miller and a pair of singles by Scot Heim.

Kim Cranmer, the losing Hobbycraft (6-8) hurler, collected three of his team's four hits. Steve Harbert got the other one.

With the score tied 7-7 in the fourth frame, Franks socked his second home run of the game, but it didn't count because he threw his bat.

A boy is automatically out in Salem Junior Baseball Class H if he throws his bat, although this is not a Hot Stove League rule.

Stark's Colonial broke the deadlock in the fifth with a seven-run outburst. Four walks, five singles and a double by Eric Steele produced the runs.

Ernie Emmerling collected a double and two singles to pace the winners. Mike Bezeredi and Mario Carreon had two hits apiece.

Power hitting by Dave Conrad, Ray DiCross and Jack Falzetta, who hit home runs, led Leetonia 4022 to its fifth victory in 11 stars.

Tim Harrold and Conrad had three hits each to pace the winners. Jack Snyder, Bill Hall and Falzetta chipped in with two hits apiece.

VFW, down 10-6 in the third, rallied for six runs in the fourth on a hit batter, two walks, three singles and a triple by Terry Boone.

Emmanuel Lutheran Grabs Church Lead

In the scramble for first place in the Church (slo-pitch) League, Emmanuel Lutheran has emerged on top as it nipped Presbyterian 14-13 in loop action at Kelley Field Monday night.

First Assembly of God, tied for first last night, slipped to third place as it dropped a 20-15 decision to Phillips Christian.

First Friends can tie for the lead if it beats First Assembly of God Friday at 8:30 p.m. as the season ends in the Church League.

Emmanuel Lutheran came from behind in the bottom of the seventh last night for its win as it chalked up three runs on two errors, a single and a home run by Ron Eichler.

Ron Stanley and Jack Krepps paced the winners with three hits apiece. Stanley and John Wagner chipped in with two hits each.

Presbyterian took a 9-0 lead in the initial session on two walks, an error, five singles, doubles by Karl Ryser and Jan Kaiser and a triple by Lynn Sangree.

Key hits for Phillips Christian were four singles by John Calahan, three doubles by Jim Blasiman, a home run and single by Al Coburn, a triple and two singles by Bob Adams, and two hits each by Norm Whinnery, Herb Call and Tom Hippie.

Glen Metcalf socked a home run and two singles to pace First Assembly of God. Glen Patterson belted a homer and single. Dale Barnes, Steven Demes and Bob Demes had three hits apiece.

A word from THERON
at the Country Store

The other day when I mentioned this Appalacia program I got comments good and bad. One card I received said they would like to see me run for public office soon, since I seemed to know so much about politics. They said I would be at the bottom of the list, the Republican list.

I never intend to run for any political office for two reasons. First, I wouldn't want to find out just how unpopular I am and second I would like to feel that every person whose name appears on the ballot is as near perfect as one can be and I know I am not.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Questions and Answers

Q—Does water on the knee cause pain to the whole leg? What treatment would you recommend?

A—Water on the knee is an accumulation of joint fluid due to an inflammatory process. It may be associated with allergic arthritis, infectious arthritis or an injury. In persons with this condition there may be pain in the whole leg and the treatment would depend on your own individual situation. In some victims the best treatment is tight bandaging of the knee in a slightly bent position, keeping the knee elevated and applying ice bags for two or three days. In others it may be necessary to remove the fluid and inject a small amount of hydrocortisone into the joint. One thing is certain—this is a condition that should not be neglected.

Q—What is the connection between nerves and allergy?
A—Foods and drugs that cause allergic reactions may affect the nervous system. This is especially true of milk, eggs, chocolate, quinine, arsenic, sulfa drugs and liver extract. Depending on which nerves are affected, the victim may have blurred vision, deafness, convulsions, dizziness, headache, paralysis of one or more limbs or even mental symptoms. As with any other allergic manifestation, dramatic improvement follows identification and avoidance of the offending substance.

Q—My doctor says I am allergic to drugs. What can I do in case of an infection or sickness if I have to take medicine?
A—I doubt that anyone is allergic to all forms of medication. It is important first to find out which drugs you are allergic to. With the recent development of many new drugs your one to fit your needs—one to doctor can almost always find which you are not allergic.

Q—What is Tofranil given for and what are its side effects?
A—Tofranil is a brand of imipramine. It is given for depression. The side effects include dryness of the mouth, blurred vision, rapid pulse, and constipation but these rarely occur unless the dosage is too large.

School Budget Ok'd At Leetonia Hearing

By MRS. HOMER KRIDLER
LEETONIA—The 1965 budget was adopted when the Leetonia Board of Education conducted a public hearing Monday in the office of Superintendent Victor Wood at Orchard Hill School. The budget is as follows: General fund, $432,110; bond retirement, $37,840; cafeteria (lunchroom fund), $31,769; and uniform supply fund, $2,300. The 1964 figures were: General fund, $423,464; bond retirement, $38,000; cafeteria, $30,790; and uniform supply fund, $2,144.

THIRTY-ONE RELATIVES attended the Ginter family reunion Sunday at Firestone Park. Miss Gussie Ginter of Chicago Heights, Ill., was able to attend because she has been visiting her sister, Miss Hazel Ginter of State St.

The Walter Fawcett family of Springdale, Pa. came the farthest distance. Other relatives attended from Garrettsville, Akron, Greenford and Leetonia. Plans were made to hold another reunion next year. Leetonia - Washingtonville Kiwanis Club will meet at 6:10 to night at the home of William Radler on W. Main St. in Washingtonville for a picnic supper. "Common Delusions" will be the lesson topic when the Menonite Church members meet for prayer and Bible study at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The First Presbyterian Church School annual picnic will be held at 4 p.m. at pavilion 1 of Firestone Park. Persons attending are to bring a coverdish.

MRS. RUSSELL SMITH accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vargo of Columbiana to Cincinnati, to visit the Pat Mancuso family over the weekend.

Chocolate, quinine, arsenic, sulfa drugs and liver extract. Depending on which nerves are affected, the victim may have blurred vision, deafness, convulsions, dizziness, headache, paralysis of one or more limbs or even mental symptoms. As with any other allergic manifestation, dramatic improvement follows identification and avoidance of the offending substance.

Of course, if you are referring to nervous tension, this can aggravate any form of allergy just as it can aggravate most other conditions.

Q—My doctor says I am allergic to drugs. What can I do in case of an infection or sickness if I have to take medicine?

A—I doubt that anyone is allergic to all forms of medication. It is important first to find out which drugs you are allergic to. With the recent development of many new drugs your one to fit your needs—one to doctor can almost always find which you are not allergic.

Q—What is Tofranil given for and what are its side effects?
A—Tofranil is a brand of imipramine. It is given for depression. The side effects include dryness of the mouth, blurred vision, rapid pulse, and constipation but these rarely occur unless the dosage is too large.

Susan Vargo stayed with the Mancuso's.
